

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL18th November 2016

Dear parents, carers and families

This week we have been undertaking lesson observations / learning walks across Education. As ever I am blown away by the hard work, expertise and commitment shown by all of the staff in their dedication to improve independence, life skills and quality of education for all of our students. The progress that all students have made since the start of this academic year is shining through. On these lesson observations we have been so pleased to observe the communication skills that our students are developing and their tolerance of each other. There have been real quality engagements on display with students supporting each other, sharing resources and working together.

This week our school focus has been 'National Anti-bullying week'. I joined Upper School for their assembly in celebrating the work that they had been undertaking. The students showed an array of work pitched perfectly in their understanding and a celebration of friendship.

Date for your diary.

See attached invitation. Please do join us for a Christmas celebration with music, readings and carols on Friday 09 December.

To finish on this week's quote:

'Whatever you hold in your mind on a consistent basis is exactly what you will experience in your life'

Towards a bright future

Best wishes

Angela O'Rourke
